

Update: Beginning May 31, 2024, we will no longer allow the bring your own wine option for cooking classes which include any level of hands-on participation. Wine will be available for purchase by the bottle or glass.

As of June 30, 2024 we will phase out all bring your own wine and beer to any cooking class or event, with the exception of private events in which prior arrangements have been made.

Though most of our students and guests have been respectful enough to follow our previous alcohol policy, unfortunately, the instances of skirting this policy and overindulging have become frequent and unmanageable.

Cooking classes have a lot of moving parts. While we try to keep the class flowing smoothly, teaching, answering questions, and resetting each lesson, we cannot prioritize managing the drinking habits of each student or counting how many byo bottles were brought in, or in some instances, what kind of alcohol was brought in, This puts our wine license and business in jeopardy.

Wine will be available for purchase by the bottle or by the glass from our self-serve wine machine. We have an amazing selection of Italian wines. With this option, everyone will still have the opportunity to enjoy some great wine, while allowing us to ensure the classes and events will run smoothly and safely.
